About Gateway Area Development District

GADD is the regional council of government and federally designated Area Agency on Aging and Independent Living, along with the federally designated Economic Development District by the Economic Development Administration, serving Bath, Menifee, Montgomery, Morgan, and Rowan Counties in east-central Kentucky since 1969. GADD is governed by a Board of Directors comprised of elected officials from the counties and communities within the region as well as non-elected citizen members representing the region's social and economic institutions. GADD Board and staff are committed to the regional planning, promotion, and coordination of programs for community, infrastructure, economic, and social development.

The above-proposed vehicle will be used to support GADD's Senior Center Division by acting as a mobile meal delivery site (food truck) to provide nutritionally qualified meals to individuals aged 60 and older. GADD's Senior Centers serve as a gateway to connect senior adults to vital community services that can help them stay healthy and independent.
